Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Electoral Crisis: An Address Delivered in the United Presbyterian Church, Gettysburg, Pa.; Tuesday, October 25, 1864 For so shall I address you this morning, and for the reason that while I am speaking from the altar of my sacred ministrations, I could wish to be regarded for once, not in the high character of the minister of God, but in that simply of an American citizen, - it is scarcely possible to over-estimate the importance of the campaign through which we are now passing. It is, in my humble view, most unlike any of those through which we have already passed - campaigns which have proved to be but the mere quadrennial epochs of our national life. This bids fair to become the very crisis of our history - the turning point, for weal or for woe, of our national existence. Never were there issues so vast - never were there responsibilities so grave devolved upon any people as are those that are devolved upon our people to-day. It would be impossible for me here, as...
